A. Introduction

In accordance with UK Government ambitions for increased electronic declaration and with EU legislation, the old methods of paper-based declarations using C3, C5 and C104A forms are now obsolete and are being phased out.

Instead, an online application process for permission to use ToR Relief now exists on GOV.UK that then leads to proper C88/SAD electronic declarations using new Customs Procedure Codes (CPCs).

Background information that has led to this change, you may find this information useful:

CIP 32 \(2016\) This CIP (Customs Information Paper) provides specific details on changes and developments for Customs controls and procedures. You will find other CIPs relevant to Transfer of Residence.

B. Basic Information

B.1 ToR (Transfer of Residence) Relief exists for those persons who wish to come to make the UK their place of normal residence. This means UK will be your main principle home.

This Relief is only available to ‘living persons’ and their personal property, so it is not available to trusts, companies, corporations, associations, groups or organisations. And there is no secondary homes relief – that was abolished several years ago.

B.2 Alternate reliefs are available if you are a spouse or newly married partner coming to live in the UK, or if you are an overseas student (from outside the EU) coming to the UK for full-time study. There is also the option for Carnet use in some circumstances, for example where professional persons arrive in the UK temporarily for specific events, such as musicians for performances in UK, and athletes for sports events. Further details of Carnets can be found in Notice 104 below.

B.3 If you only intend to temporarily visit the UK, then it’s possible other Customs procedures may be a better alternative. Look up the information for Temporary Admission with the guidance in Notice 3001, specifically Annex C using the link below.

B.4 If you used to live in the UK and are returning to do so after spending three years or less outside the EU, including any short postings overseas, you may be entitled to use RGR (Returned Goods Relief) instead, depending upon your personal circumstances. To learn more about RGR, please read the information in Notice 236.

B.5 If you are importing personal property that you inherited from a bequest left to you in a Will, you should not use ToR, and instead use Inherited Goods Relief. To learn more about this, please see the information included in Notice 368.

B.6 If no Relief can be awarded, or the goods are ineligible to use a Relief, then personal property must be declared to Free Circulation and import duties and charges will be liable for payment.

Please note: we can only provide for ToR to the UK only. If you wish to have ToR in another EU Member state, then you must apply to that country’s Customs Authority. You may still import your personal property into the EU via the UK, but we cannot arrange customs clearance to ToR and instead, your consignment will be forwarded on to the destination country under Transit. Alternatively, you can customs clear your goods in the UK and, on payment of the tax and duty, they are then in free circulation for onward movement in the EU. Not all goods are entitled to ToR, e.g. excise goods, such as, alcohol and tobacco, or goods subject to prohibitions and restrictions, e.g. guns. These goods must be declared on your application for TOR so that customs and your shipping agent can take the necessary action (see section C.7).

C. Guidance for Individual Persons & Families

C.1 You are now responsible for making your own application for ToR. This is because you need to demonstrate that you meet the qualifying criteria to then be given ToR Relief, that the items of personal property you intend to bring are eligible for the Relief and that you agree to abide by the obligations of the Relief once you have moved to the UK.

You need to complete the ToR01 Application Process as early as possible, with plenty of details on your personal circumstances, so that the decision-maker has all the necessary facts to hand. Generally we would encourage you to apply before shipping your personal property to UK.

We ask that you also provide any supporting documentation with your application that helps prove your circumstances.

C.2 You need to tell us that you have a permanent place to live within the UK, in order to show you can establish your normal place of residence. You will not be able to use a work address or your employer's address. If you do not yet have details of your permanent residence, we will exceptionally accept a temporary address but you must provide an explanation why a permanent address is not yet established. We may then permit you a maximum of 6 months to notify us of your permanent address, you may have to provide a security to cover the import charges usually liable for your items during that period, and you will be subject to a higher level of scrutiny by customs.

Please notify us as soon as possible that you have an established residence in place in the UK, otherwise you will no longer qualify for ToR Relief and any security will be retained.

If you have a temporary residence address, you will also need to provide us an additional address for where your personal property will be held in storage.

C.3 You must also be able to show that you have lived outside of the EU and UK for a continuous period of 12 months minimum. You need to provide reasonable evidence to prove this – such as utility bills, but also bank statements, local authority or government documents, and information on rental or house purchases that can all be used as Proof-Of-Address.

C.4 We also need you to provide us Proof-Of-Identity of you and any of your family or your dependants who will come to live in the UK with you. Copies of your passports will be required.

C.5 If you are coming to the UK for employment purposes, a letter of support from your employer is also necessary.

C.6 We would also ask you to provide all information in English language. We will reserve the right to ask you to provide translations if non-English language is present in your application.

C.7 You should also provide a packing list or manifest of the personal property you intend to bring to the UK. You should note that while you may qualify to use ToR Relief, not all of your personal property items may be eligible goods to that Relief. For example, any items you have only just acquired within the last 6 months cannot use ToR Relief, alcohol and tobacco products, professional trade tools and commercial transport vehicles are also not eligible. All these items can still be brought to the UK, it is just that you will have to pay import duties and charges for them.

That is why it is important that you provide the best possible details on your personal property in the packing list or manifest. Any items must be declared by the applicant to the clearing agent.

Details for the personal property items must include the following information:

- The Commodity Code (such as clothing, furniture, kitchen appliances, electronic items, etc.) so that the Duty Rate and VAT Rate can be properly identified for customs clearance purposes. Do not use Comm Code 9905 - this is not yet active in UK, pending CHIEF system replacement. 6-digit Commodity Codes and/or accurate goods description will be acceptable.
- The Valuation of the item, using invoices or receipts if available, or the insurance value of the item, or with agreed valuations using any of the methods laid down in Notice 252. Again, a value must be entered, even for used or second-hand items, for customs clearance purposes.
- And please declare any specific items you think might be on the 'Prohibited & Restricted' list – see the 'Travelling to the UK' guidance below.

C.8 Your pets may also be included under ToR Relief as well. Please ensure that you abide by the pets/animal controls laid down in the APHA guidelines – more information on this is available in the guidance links below.

We accept that an animal is your pet if you have had it in your possession and use in the same circumstances as other personal property outlined in C.7 above – for a minimum of 6 months.

C.9 Once you have completed your Application using the ToR01 Process, you must print and/or save the finished copy. You may then either post it along with all supporting documents, or, you may email the completed application along with scanned/electronic copies of supporting documents, to the NCH (National Clearance Hub), using the contact details available below. Your e-mail should not exceed 10MB or it will be rejected.

If at any later point any details change, please notify the NCH staff as soon as possible, providing a clearly understood reference to your earlier application.

Once you have submitted your ToR01 Application, the time taken to process it will depend on how much detail you have provided. The decision process is usually quite prompt, but any lack of information you fail to provide could incur delays.

C.10 If you are successful and Relief for ToR is awarded, you will receive a unique authorisation code. You must look after this as it relates to your personal circumstances when moving to UK. If you are not successful in being awarded ToR Relief, your personal property must be imported via Free Circulation with all import duties and charges paid.

You may re-apply retrospectively for ToR Relief, once you are properly established in the UK, using the ToR01 process if you have new information or evidence to support your application, but you must do this as soon as possible and within 12 months of arrival in to the UK. If you are successful, you may be entitled to a refund of import charges.

C.11 When your Declarant – the shipping agent, the moving company or anyone else you have contracted to move your personal property to the UK – is ready to make the customs declarations at the UK frontier, they will need your unique authorisation code to complete a specific section of the electronic declaration.

You are responsible for using ToR Relief properly. You must also ensure that the Declarant carries out their part of the process properly as well. You may therefore want to ensure written instructions are in place for the Declarant to abide by, or that any contract drawn up for them to act upon your behalf outlines exactly what you expect from them to complete your relocation to the UK.

C.12 Once you are settled at your normal place of residence in the UK, you must keep any imported items that were allowed ToR Relief for a minimum of 12 months. This means you may not sell them, give them away, or loan them to anyone else, as you would have failed to maintain your post-import obligations to use the Relief and you will owe the relieved import duties and charges. You may always contact us to inform and discuss about any items that you may have to dispose of, and we can then advise you on what actions need to be taken.

D. Guidance for the Declarants (agents/shipping companies/removers)

D.1 As a Declarant, you are carrying out the shipping arrangements for your client, the Individual Person or Family who are coming to live in the UK.

You should use CPC 40 00 C01 on the C88/SAD, with their ToR unique authorisation code. This CPC can only be used for your clients who have been successfully granted ToR Relief. This authorisation code must be used on all and any consignments of their personal property, whether those consignments come via air, sea or by post, or a variation of those routes.

D.2 Please ensure only goods eligible to ToR Relief are declared via CPC 40 00 C01. This is why it is of vital importance that the client has provided an accurate manifest or packing list of their personal property. Any other items in their consignment that are not eligible to ToR must be imported using a declaration to Free Circulation, via CPC 40 00 000, with the import duties and charges paid. See the information above in Section C as to what sort of items might be involved.

D.3 Please note that anyone coming to the UK from the Special Fiscal Territories (e.g. Channel Islands, Canaries, certain French territories, etc.) should use 49 00 C01 and 49 00 000 appropriately.

D.4 When completing the 40 00 C01 declaration, you should ensure that you make an entry into Box 44, along the lines of:

- Item level AI Statement TOR01 and then the Applicant's unique authorisation code as the AI Statement text

Example of Box 44: TOR01 – Jones2017A0401

D.5 You need to ensure values are entered for the personal property items as well, even if those items are used or secondhand goods. If the client later fails to meet the mandatory obligations for ToR Relief, we will need those values to calculate any Customs debt.

D.6 As the client is now required to list any prohibited and restricted items as part of their ToR01 Application, such items cannot be declared to ToR and should not use CPC 40 00 C01. These items may instead need to be inspected before any clearance is permitted, so please follow the current usual procedures for P&R goods.

D.7 In the above sections you will see hyperlinks to further guidance available on GOV.UK. These all provide additional instruction and clarification on this area of importation into the UK and are for your benefit as well. It is recommended that all Declarants familiarize themselves with this content and establish a clear understanding of the material in order to advise their clients in the best manner possible.
